Public transport in Barcelona and Berlin

The Project Spanish and German students participated in the International Media Camp, a collaborative project with Tecno Campus aimed at fostering cultural collaboration. Spending one week at the Spanish university and vice versa, we created diverse media projects in mixed groups.

Our Concept Through this short form video, we want to showcase how using public transport enables anyone to discover beautiful places in any city. The aesthetically arranged shots are accompanied by a soundscape of recorded train announcements, city ambient sounds and rhythmic tones. Have a look yourself by scanning the QR code below.
